Welcome to the Saluki family! You and your students are now part of a nearly 150-year-old university that balances great traditions with forward-looking academic programs.

Students choose SIU because they know we put them first – inside and outside of the classroom. We focus on learning experiences that add value to a student’s degree after graduation. From opportunities to participate in research or creative activities as early as the freshman year to service in the community, SIU students gain knowledge and skills that will benefit them throughout their lives. They also take advantage of an array of cultural, recreational and athletics programs as well as nearby state and national parks that are the pride of Southern Illinois.

In addition to reminding you of important dates, this calendar provides valuable insights into what you and your student may experience during the first year at SIU. We offer many programs and services that assist students as they make the transition to college life. We take pride in being a caring community dedicated to student success.

On behalf of our faculty, staff and students, welcome to your university.

Sincerely,

Carlo Montemagno
Chancellor

Welcome, new Saluki family members and supporters! We are proud to welcome you to the Saluki Family! As a new member of our family, you will find access to many resources that will assist you and your student on the journey toward graduation. After moving into their new residences, they should take advantage of all the opportunities to engage with their peers, make lifelong friends, and participate in intellectually and physically challenging activities. The connections made will allow them to grow academically, socially, emotionally and culturally.

The Division of Student Affairs includes departments and units that support student success outside of the classroom. The resources available to our students range from academic support services, health, wellness counseling, and career services, to student activities and campus recreation. Becoming engaged with the campus community helps students achieve their academic, personal and professional goals. Students begin their journeys with the assistance of New Student Programs, supported by many departments across our campus. The programs and services are designed to engage our students and make them aware of the resources available to guide them toward the ultimate goal of graduation.

As the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, I encourage you to use this calendar and the university website to assist your student achieve goals. We are here to support our students and families. Please feel free to contact any of the offices listed throughout this calendar or the Dean of Students Office at 618-453-2461.

With Saluki Spirit,

Lori Stettler
Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

Saluki Ambassadors

Description
At SIU, our students lead the way. Saluki Ambassadors are students dedicated to sharing experiences and perspectives about the university they call home. They lead campus tours, sit on student panels and attend on- and off-campus events. Saluki Ambassadors are here to answer questions about student life at SIU. Within our organization of more than 70 members, we elect an executive board of four students each year to take charge of elements such as training, professional development, communications and engagement, and managing service and membership requirements. Each year, we also choose a select team of Senior Ambassadors to assist in training and other leadership opportunities as they arise.

Hiring
We recruit and interview for new Saluki Ambassadors during Weeks of Welcome or the first few weeks of the fall semester. Executive board elections are held each November for the following calendar year. Every January we take applications for Senior Ambassadors who have served at least one semester post-training.

Benefits
A majority of our Saluki Ambassadors are members of SIU’s competitive scholarship programs, University Honors program and fraternity/sorority life, where they can receive campus service hours for their time assisting the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Often these students are the first that we look to for student employment opportunities, and these opportunities have been known to lead to full-time positions after graduation working in higher education.

Expectations

As you and your student get ready for the first semester at SIU, have an honest conversation about expectations. Family members are an important source of support as they grow more independent. Talking about the process may prevent frustrations from both sides.

Many students will move away from home when they begin college. Talk about what it means to live independently. If your student will be living on campus, review the Resident Handbook for policies and guidelines. If your student will be living with roommates, encourage open conversations about expectations. Contract renewals and off-campus leasing will begin in October or November, so revisit the conversation then to find out your student’s plans for the following year.

Students enrolled for the fall semester will get their first bursar bill in July. Students can use the SalukiNet portal to access their financial records, set up a payment plan with the bursar’s office and submit financial aid information.

This is the beginning of your student's college experience! At SIU, we go out of our way to support students as they transition to the academic environment and social culture here on campus. Academically, your student may need to learn new techniques for success. Previous time management, note-taking or study strategies may need to be fine-tuned as students learn what their new instructors expect from them. Socially, students meet lots of new people and learn their place in the university community. Your student will have opportunities to encounter people and experiences that may be significantly different from previous experiences.

For some, the excitement can quickly change to anxiety and insecurity. Anticipate that your student may call home to let off steam, share worries or sort through situations out loud. Use these moments as opportunities to let students do their own problem-solving by listening, asking questions and affirming your belief in their decision making. There will be times to listen, times to give advice and possibly times to get involved. Challenges may be frustrating, but they are also one of the best ways for students to develop the skills and resilience they need for the future.

Students who need assistance with the transition may talk to RAs, faculty, advisors, or other staff. Referrals for additional help can also be made through the Saluki Cares system.

Family and Your Saluki

Labor Day weekend may be your student’s first opportunity to return home for a visit. Students are typically excited and nervous about coming home for the first time. They look forward to visiting old friends but may find those friendships have changed. You may have different ideas about how your student will divide time home between friends and family. Before your student’s first visit home, have an honest conversation about curfew, time spent with family and other expectations you have.

The Saluki Family Association is a great way for you to stay connected with campus and all the great things happening at SIU. Saluki Family Weekend is a premier event of the Saluki Family Association, and we invite you to come to campus for a weekend of activities everyone can enjoy. Attend events with your student, and see firsthand what all of them are experiencing at college. Check out the Saluki Family Association webpage for Saluki Family Weekend events, the Saluki Family of the Weekend contest and any other information you may need to plan your visit to Carbondale.
Talk with your student about personal finances. As students adjust to greater independence, they may encounter unexpected costs. Setting clear expectations about money and helping your student develop a personal budget can prevent problems. Remember to work with your student on filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). You will need your prior year tax information to complete the form. Financial aid is distributed on a first-come, first-served basis, so complete and submit your FAFSA as soon as possible on or after October 1.

October and February are when students schedule academic advisement appointments and register for the next semester of classes. Encourage your student to prepare for academic advisement by reflecting on the semester, thinking about goals and considering options. If your student is considering changing majors, listen and be sympathetic, but try to let the process occur independently. Make sure you show your support and confidence in your student’s abilities and decisions.

Academics

With final exams nearing, students may need reassurance of support during the stressful and challenging final weeks of the semester. Even high achievers may find college-level coursework difficult and be anxious about exams. Encourage your student to start planning and studying early; one or two days is typically not enough time. If your student is struggling in a particular class, instructors can provide assistance during office hours, before or after class or through email. Instructors can help more when students communicate as soon as they begin to struggle, rather than waiting until they are in crisis.

As students adjust to the academic culture on campus and the pressure of meeting high academic standards, good study and time-management skills are critical. Academic coaching, tutoring and group study sessions offered by the Center for Learning Support Services may help with overall academics or specific challenging courses. The Writing Center provides writing and editing assistance for any course, and the Math Department offers help sessions for introductory math classes. Morris Library offers computer labs, individual and group study spaces, and other services to help your student succeed.

Health and Wellness

Cold and flu season, combined with the stress of final exams, can lead to health problems, especially for students who have not developed healthy lifestyle habits while at college. Students who made changes to their diet, exercise and activity routines, stress levels and sleep schedules may not realize how much this affects academic performance as well as overall health and well-being.

Remind your student to take advantage of the services on campus. SIU’s state-of-the-art Student Health Center offers a medical clinic, wellness center, counseling center, sports medicine/physical therapy, pharmacy and optical services. The Student Recreation Center offers great ways for students to stay active with fitness classes, exercise equipment and intramural sports. Encourage your student to not just “hang in there,” but seek help if needed. Saluki Cares is a university-wide program of care and support for students in distress. Family members, peers or students themselves can refer a student to Saluki Cares, and a team of professionals from different areas of campus life will follow up with referred students to provide support.

Reflection

Students may not earn the same grades in college as they did in high school, when courses were easier. Be ready to talk about the first semester overall: academic progress, campus activities, the college lifestyle, friendships, instructors, opportunities taken or worth pursuing, as well as expectations and goals. Understanding the first semester will make it easier to plan for the ones to come. Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS), provides mental health-related services to facilitate students’ adjustment to college and their personal and psychological growth in becoming high functioning and socially responsible adults. CAPS staff works to help students resolve problems that interfere with personal, social, and academic functioning while also emphasizing prevention, development, adjustment, and wellness. CAPS offers a variety of services including individual, group, couples and crisis counseling at their location in the Student Health Center. For students who live in the residence halls, CAPS and University Housing offer extended hours for counseling services through the Counselor in Residence (CIR) program.

If your student is considering moving off-campus next year, first read the information online at the housing website. If your student plans to live on-campus and still needs to contract, contracts can be completed on the housing website as well.

During the month of February, students may focus more on friendships and relationships than their studies. Midterm exams may seem far off, but the first half of the semester goes quickly. Remind your student to balance priorities, stay focused, manage projects and assignments, and attend class regularly to be successful. As students make plans for spring break, it is important they do not lose sight of what needs to be done before they leave and after they come back.

Talk with your student about spring break plans. Some students choose to return home, while others may plan to travel with friends. Career Services’ Extern Program pairs students with professionals in their field who provide a weeklong work experience to apply the skills students have learned in the classroom. Encourage your student to think through choices carefully. Students who make good decisions and wisely plan their actions can return from spring break rested, renewed and ready for the second half of the semester. Choices students make on spring break could also negatively affect the rest of their semester, and students should remember they are still accountable to the Student Code of Conduct even when they are away from campus.

Planning Ahead

Academics are just one way college helps lay the foundation for your student’s success. Involvement on campus helps students build lasting connections with peers, faculty and staff. Students engage in activities they enjoy and add experiences and skills to their résumés. Career Services is available to help students craft professional résumés and other job search documents. Firsthand experiences outside the classroom often will help a student decide what to do after graduation. The Student Center offers a variety of activities, many of which are planned and put on by the Student Programming Council. Students involved with the Student Multicultural Resource Center host events designed to promote social justice and inclusivity across campus. SIU is home to more than 275 registered student organizations that support a variety of individual goals and missions. No matter what students like to do, there is a way for them to do it at SIU.

As the weather gets warmer, you might also encourage your student to check out some of the natural beauty in Southern Illinois. Students can walk the trail around campus lake or visit nearby trails and parks. Outdoor Pursuits at the Student Recreation Center offers equipment rental, adventure trips and skills clinics.

Spring Break housing.siu.edu/break
SIU is proud to have received these sustainability-minded recognitions:
Salukis and Sustainability

Today’s students are tomorrow’s leaders. They deserve healthy surroundings in which to study, make relationships, learn and grow. The month of April includes Earth Day (April 22) and Arbor Day (April 26), so it is a perfect time to celebrate sustainable thinking and recommit to healthy lifestyle choices for people and the environment.

In addition to the recognitions listed above, SIU has earned spots on lists sponsored by the Sierra Club and The Princeton Review for its green initiatives. Many of these green projects have been made possible because of the student-initiated Green Fee.

Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to submit project ideas that increase sustainability on campus. To date, the Student Green Fund has supported at least 169 projects totaling more than $2 million invested in sustainability at SIU.

Another Transition

The end of the academic year brings a variety of emotions. Students realize that, once final exams are over, many will pack up and move home for the summer. Leaving new friends and adjusting to life at home after the independence of college may cause anxiety. Talk about summer plans with your student. Students who plan ahead strategically use this time to prepare for the fall semester, continue their studies with summer classes, gain valuable internship or work experience, or earn money for the upcoming year.

Students may also be concerned with reactions to their academic performance. Remember, grades alone do not provide a full picture of a student's academic progress. College is different from high school. It takes time to develop note-taking and test-taking skills, along with study habits and time-management abilities. Even students who do not meet their own expectations when it comes to grade point average may have learned critical lessons for future academic success. Encourage students, support them and help them to continue to learn and grow.

Summer at SIU

SIU offers great opportunities for students who choose to stay in Carbondale over the summer. Summer classes can allow students to get ahead and lighten the load during fall and spring semesters. Most programs require a student to take an average of 15 credit hours per semester to graduate in four years, and summer classes can help students keep on track. Students may be more successful in difficult subject matters by concentrating on a course over the summer and having fewer classes to manage. Remind your student that the shorter semester requires diligence with time management. Students who take classes at another institution should talk with their academic advisor before signing up for classes to make sure credits will transfer.

Students will never have trouble finding something to do during the summer. Summer is a beautiful time to explore nature trails or spend time on the water at one of the nearby lakes. SIU and the local community partner together for outdoor movies and concerts. Many restaurants and coffee shops offer outdoor seating when students want to grab a bite to eat or find an off-campus spot to study.

Hopefully by this time you and your student are feeling the Saluki pride that comes from being part of our family of students, faculty, staff and alumni. As you make plans for the upcoming year, consider visiting campus for Saluki Family Weekend, Homecoming or another time. Check the Saluki athletics schedule and include a game while you visit, or see if you can catch the Salukis playing near you.

Find out when your student plans to return to campus. Students may appreciate help moving back or moving from summer to fall housing. If your student will be living on campus, be sure to check move-in dates. Stock up on supplies your student will need for the upcoming year.

WHAT’S A SALUKI?
The royal dog of Egypt, the Saluki is an ancient breed of sighthound, recognizable by its tall, graceful build and silky coat. The Saluki is, from ancient times, bred for speed and endurance, and was a favorite among ancient nobility. Today, the dogs are lure-coursers, show dogs and pets. SIU Carbondale adopted the Saluki as its mascot in 1951 and remains the only university with this unique mascot.

The first Saluki mascot on campus was Tut, a 10-year-old dog owned by John and Linda Saunders of Chester, Illinois. Tut attended select Saluki athletic events and other special events, including Homecoming. The tradition continues with several beloved Saluki mascots representing the Tut legacy.

Southern, show,
For all the world to know.
Nothing’s gonna stop you now!
Hit that line and show
Them how to go!
Southern Go!

Words and music by Grover Clarke Morgan

Hail, Alma Mater
Southern to thee,
Strong thru the years
You stand triumphantly.

Hail, hail to thee.

Academic Opportunities and Support

Academic Advising
Academic advising is a teaching and learning process dedicated to student success. Our function is to teach, guide and support students and other stakeholders in the university community. Academic advisors help students understand curricular requirements, teach students how to make effective decisions and serve as a resource as students develop their individual education plans. Academic advisors encourage students to be proactive in the pursuit of education, and to take personal responsibility for their decisions and actions. Advising is a partnership designed to help students move from where they are to where they want to be.

The call center provides telephone, email and online chat support for students, and offers solutions for account issues and internet connectivity problems, as well as software program assistance. The Walk-in Service Center, located on the first floor of Morris Library, provides students with the same personal support, and also handles personal laptop, desktop, tablet and phone configurations, malware issues, data backups, operating system reinstallations and hardware repairs. The SalukiTech Computer Store, located in the Student Center, carries laptop and desktop computers, gaming consoles and several computer and mobile accessories. Pharmacy
We have a full-service pharmacy. You may fill prescriptions at our pharmacy from any medical provider. You may purchase all pharmacy items with normal payment methods, or by charging it to your bursar account or Debit Dawg. We can submit eligible prescriptions to the SIU Aetna Student Health Insurance plan. Other third party plans cannot be accepted at this time.

Insurance Benefits
SIU offers a student health insurance plan to provide off-campus health care coverage, such as emergency care, hospitalization, surgery and other specialty health care services. This ACA-compliant plan is designed specifically for SIU students and features a national provider network, low deductibles, low copays and low out-of-pocket costs to students and qualified dependents. The student may add dependent coverage during the enrollment period or certain life qualifying events. Students that have comparable health coverage may waive the fee by completing the online waiver form located on our website before the posted deadline. Late petitions to waive will be considered for extenuating circumstances. As a condition of enrollment, on-campus students pay the Student Health Fee, which allows them access to the Student Health Center even if they waive the Student Health Insurance Plan.

Immunization Compliance
Illinois law requires that all students born after January 1, 1957, provide documentation for two vaccinations against measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) after the age of 1, and proof of three tetanus vaccinations containing pertussis (DTP, DPT, DTaP or Tdap), one dose must be a Tdap and one dose must be within the last 10 years (Td, DT or Tdap). TT is not acceptable. One dose meningococcal conjugate on or after age 11, applies to students under age 22. All international students, regardless of date of birth, must also complete a tuberculosis screening at the Student Health Center. Records must be filed in English. Elective immunizations such as hepatitis, flu and travel vaccinations are recommended and available, but not required. Immunization records must be on file at SCHC before the 10th day of class to avoid a registration hold.

After-Hours Emergencies
For after-hours emergencies, call 911 or go to the emergency room. The student health insurance plan will not cover non-emergency ER visits.

Wellness and Safety

Saluki Cares
Saluki Cares is a university-wide program of care and support for students in distress. The program coordinates care to help students deal with such trauma as: death of loved ones; extended illnesses; financial stress; adjustment issues; class attendance problems; homesickness; and other stressors. Families can reach out to their students through Saluki Cares if they see warning signs, such as a drop in GPA or a change in behavior, or if they experience a known problem such as a death in the family. Faculty and staff may also use Saluki Cares if they are concerned about a student’s well-being. Saluki Cares will coordinate the appropriate resources to get students the help they need.

OSE consists of the following functional areas:

- Fraternity and Sorority Life – Since 1923, the SIU Greek community has upheld the foundational principles of leadership, scholarship, service and brotherhood/sisterhood. Our community consists of two Greek honor societies and 35 chapters from the four governing councils that include the College Panhellenic Association (CPA), Interfraternity Council (IFC), Multicultural Greek Council (MGC) and National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC).
- Student Programs and Events – Planned by the students for the students, our Student Programming Council (SPC) plans nearly 50 cultural, education and entertaining programs and events annually in addition to Homecoming, Family Weekend, late night events, and concerts.
- Student Involvement – SIU has nearly 300 Registered Student Organizations that range in scope and focus from cultural, educational, recreational, religious and social. SIU Students can gain practical leadership experience by getting involved in RSOs or through other leadership development opportunities like the annual leadership conference and Emerging Salukis.

Student Recreation Center

Recreational Sports & Services (RSS) and the Student Recreation Center (SRC) enhance the educational experience for the SIU community with recreational opportunities, services and facilities for all individuals. The Student Recreation Center (SRC) is a 214,000-square-foot facility located on Grand Avenue. It houses a wide array of facilities, fitness equipment and meeting spaces for student groups. Other amenities include basketball/volleyball courts, a pool, two indoor walking/jogging tracks, racquetball and squash courts, several fitness and cardio equipment areas, five weight rooms, and dance studios and multipurpose rooms for student use. Students already pay for the use of the SRC through their student fees. Non-student membership to the facility is easy and very inexpensive for families of students.

Enrollment, Tuition and Financial Aid

Enrollment
- Students register for classes online using SalukiNet.
- To register, student must have a network ID, password, and RUN number.
- First-time students receive counseling and assistance by registering at New Student Orientation and meeting with an academic advisor.
- Students eligible to self-register may still need to meet first with an academic advisor and obtain a RUN number.
- The maximum credit-hour load for an undergraduate student (one working toward a bachelor's degree) is 18 hours in the fall and spring semesters, and nine hours in the summer semester. Bachelor's degree is designed for a four-year completion; 8 semesters and 15 credit hours each semester, or 30 credit hours per year.
- Students should consult with an academic advisor to change or drop classes.
- Students who are considering withdrawing from the university should first consult an academic advisor to understand their best options before initiating the process with the Registrar's office.

Student Records
The Office of the Registrar provides students with student records, including official transcripts, enrollment verification, tuition adjustments and refund deadlines. The office also monitors student academic progress, including identifying those whose achievements merit inclusion in such honors as the dean's list.

Tuition
- Use our online financial aid cost calculator at fao.siu.edu/cost to determine estimated costs. Note that tuition costs are set by the SIU Board of Trustees in late spring.
- Truth-in-tuition locks in the tuition rate for a student for the four years traditionally required to earn a bachelor's degree. That means our students' tuition will not go up from freshman year through their fourth year.

Financial Aid
The primary goal of our Financial Aid Office is to help students achieve their educational potential by providing appropriate financial resources. We are here to guide families and students through the financial aid process and to provide assistance along the way. Financial aid advisors are available during office hours and at New Student Orientation programs.

Bursar’s Office
The Office of the Bursar is committed to excellence in providing financial services to students and to the university community. The Office of the Bursar is where:
- You can pay university bills in person, over the phone or online via SalukiNet.
- Bills are available on SalukiNet the 15th of each month and are due in full by the 10th of the next month.

Installment Payment Plan
SIU and Nelnet Business Solutions (NBS) provide an installment payment program for students. Because it is not a loan program, there is no debt incurred and no credit search. There are no interest or finance charges assessed by SIU or NBS on the unpaid balance while enrolled in the plan. SIU has contracted with Nelnet Business Solutions to provide various payment options.

Student ID Card/Debit Dawg
The SIU student ID is like a key to campus, allowing access to the residence halls, Recreation Center, dining halls, library, Health Center, university events, and much more. For more information visit studentcenter.siu.edu/ID. Your ID is also Debit Dawg, the campus debit card program. Students enjoy the convenient purchasing power at many locations on and off campus. Visit our website for more information on how to add money to the account and for a complete listing of locations where Debit Dawg is accepted.

Veterans Services
The Veterans Center in Woody Hall is a stop shop for veterans. We coordinate veteran educational benefits through the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) for GI Bill and Illinois Student Assistance Commission for Illinois Veterans/National Guard grants. Our office staff coordinates with internal and external organizations such as the VA, IDVA, IDES and others to provide benefit programs resolution, social activities and peer-to-peer support.

Army ROTC/Air Force ROTC
Army ROTC and Air Force ROTC (Reserve Officers’ Training Corps) are elective curriculums that blend with the SIU curriculum. As a leadership program, ROTC is available to freshmen and sophomores with no obligation to join the Army or the Air Force. Those who go on through ROTC and graduate may become commissioned officers in the Army or Air Force.

Center for Service-Learning and Volunteerism
The Center for Service-Learning and Volunteerism seeks to support and foster the university’s mission of service by preparing students to be engaged, aware and responsible citizens. Co-curricular and course-based opportunities for service and reflection allow students to be active learners; to connect to peers, faculty and the community; and to contribute to the service mission of the university. Students learn in a holistic environment that prepares them for leadership in a diverse society. The three major programs are Saluki Volunteer Corps, AmeriCorps National Service and academic-based service-learning.

Non-Traditional Student Services
The office of Non-Traditional Student Services serves returning adults, students with children, and transfer students from the point of entry to degree completion. Our staff offers guidance, support and resource referral while also seeking to foster a higher sense of belonging among non-traditional students through connecting students to peers and providing family-friendly programs.

Student Rights and Responsibilities (SRR)
SRR serves as a resource for students and staff in understanding and applying the Student Conduct Code. SRR also addresses situations where the code may have been violated. SIU uses a number of avenues, including informal and formal hearings, to address potential violations. In situations where it is determined that there has been a violation of the code, SRR will assign appropriate sanctions designed to address the violation in an individualized and educational manner that focuses on learning and personal growth wherever possible.

Academic Dishonesty
At SIU, allegations of academic dishonesty, such as cheating and plagiarism, are handled within the individual departments and colleges in most cases. Often these situations are resolved between the student and instructor at an individual level, with the outcome being communicated to the student and department. In some cases, the student and instructor may meet with the dean to discuss the situation before determining an appropriate sanction. If a student disputes the allegation of academic dishonesty, he or she may request an administrative hearing. At this hearing, the instructor and student will each have an opportunity to share their side of the situation before a decision is made. Once the hearing is complete, the student will be notified of the outcome and of any sanctions that are being applied. If the hearing determines the student did violate the code, the student has the option to appeal the decision in some cases.

Behavioral Misconduct
When a report of misconduct is reported to SRR from a faculty or staff member, a student, a member of the community or law enforcement, it is first reviewed to see if there is a possible violation of the code. If there is the possibility a violation occurred, the student in question is notified that a report has been received and is told of the possible violations that are alleged. Students then have the opportunity to accept responsibility for a violation or request a hearing. If a student accepts responsibility for the alleged violation, the case will be reviewed by a hearing officer, who will decide what sanctions are appropriate and inform the student of the outcome. Students may be given a sanction and may be asked to complete one or more educational activities to address the situation. When a student requests a hearing, he or she has the option of requesting an administrative hearing with a hearing officer. Once SRR receives a request for a hearing, the student will be notified of a date and time for the hearing. Hearings are scheduled to avoid conflicts with classes and academic requirements. At the hearing, students have the opportunity to discuss the situation with a hearing officer, have witnesses speak on their behalf and ask questions of witnesses the university may ask to be present. The hearing officer will also ask questions to ensure as much information as possible is available before any decision is made. Once the hearing is complete, the hearing officer will review all the available information and make a determination as to whether a violation occurred. The student will be notified of this decision and, if there was a violation, the student will also be notified of any sanctions that are being applied or further actions the student must take. Students who are found responsible for a violation of the code may have the right to appeal the decision or sanctions, depending on the situation. Incidents that occur in facilities operated by University Housing may be addressed by University Housing staff members who have been trained as hearing officers, or they may be referred to SRR.

The Code and the Law
The Student Conduct Code is separate from the legal process. While law enforcement may notify SRR of possible violations of the code, this does not affect a student’s legal obligations. In many situations, the police may choose to notify SRR of an incident but not arrest or cite a student. In these cases, the university may still hold a hearing to determine if the code was violated. In other cases, the student may be required to address the situation through both the university and the legal system. Another difference between the legal system and the code is the “standard of evidence.” In the legal system, allegations must be proven beyond a reasonable doubt. When investigating possible violations of the code, a “preponderance of the evidence” standard is used, meaning SRR is looking to determine if it is more likely than not a violation of the code occurred. As in the legal system, however, a student is always presumed not to have violated the code until it is proven otherwise.

Student Conduct Records
Student conduct records contain all the information collected throughout the hearing process. This information may include letters, forms, reports, emails and audio recordings, to name a few. Students may review their files at any time by visiting the SRR office. Information created by other entities, such as police departments, can be viewed by students, but copies must be obtained through the person or department who created it. All student conduct records are protected by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, and we take our students’ privacy seriously. As such, we must have a written waiver on file before we can release any information to friends, family or anyone else.

Mass Transit
